

Lost Sleep Found

I'm a light sleeper;
I lose sleep all the time.
Raining on the roof
wakes me up. So does having to pee. The cat wanting breakfast at 5.
That's a tough daily loss.

Yet the cat finds sleep
everywhere, without effort.
In an Amazon box.
On my lap at the computer.
Stretched out in the sunlight
on our Persian rug,
he even finds a sultan's slumber.
